Jeddah Prep and Grammar School is a British style establishment, operating to the UK National Curriculum. It provides education for over 800 children from 48 nationalities, ranging from 3 to 18 years of age. The School is accredited by the UK Independent Joint Schools Council and the Headmaster is an examiner with Cambridge and London Universities. It is also an examination centre for both EDEXCEL (London) and UCLES (Cambridge) for both A Level and IGCSE. Traditional UK terms are observed; however, the working week is from Saturday to Wednesday. A friendly school where parents are seen as an integral part of the home - school relationships, the School is renowned for promoting traditional standards of discipline, hard work, good manners and courtesy to all members of its community.
